This majestic 19th century palace is surrounded by an impressive 2-hectare walled garden.

This stunning historical property, ensconced in a glorious natural landscape in the comarca of Os Ancares in Lugo, offers the chance to live in a palace of your very own.

A comprehensive refurbishment restored the property to its former glory around 30 years ago and the palace remains in pristine condition today.

The impressive entryway leads into an imposing, rectangular-shaped building with neoclassical lines, boasting three extensive floors plus a covered outdoor space, a beautiful chapel and a granary within the grounds.

The ground floor of the main building features two parallel hallways with lofty ceilings and abundant natural light, a dramatic central staircase in the main hall, a library area, WC, kitchen-diner and direct access to the service area, featuring a bedroom and fully-equipped bathroom.

The first floor is home to the main dining room and various spaces ideally positioned to house living rooms and reception rooms, with enormous windows affording stunning views over both sides of the plot, as well as a WC.

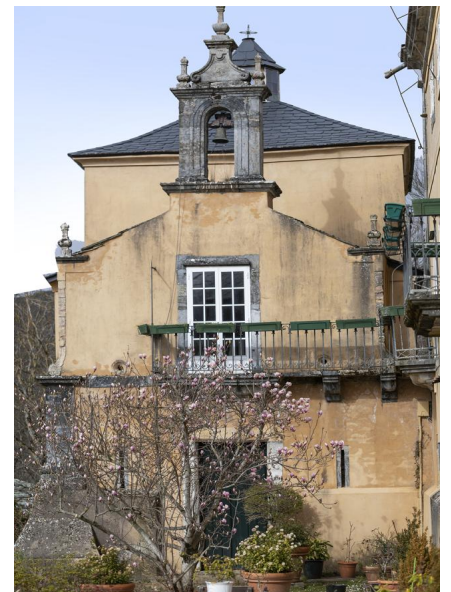

The second floor features five bedrooms, three full bathrooms, and a master suite with en-suite bathroom and a dedicated dressing area.

The covered outdoor area is currently not in use, but would be perfect for future extensions or for use as storage space.

The property also boasts indoor parking, a woodshed and diesel-fired heating.

The sweeping gardens flanking the property on all sides are ideal for enjoying leisurely walks in nature.

The palace is located in the beautiful Galician comarca of Os Ancares, 55 km from Lugo and Ponferrada, 95 km from Monforte de Lemos, 115 km from Astorga, 165 km from León and just a four-hour drive from Madrid.
